Driving Business Impact

Bridging the gap from insight to impact

Selecting an enterprise software solution is a major business decision. In order to drive business impact, organizations need to select technology that lets them do more than collect data.

Software solutions built with BI tools typically focus on data and insights only. Software solutions built on the Corporater business management platform (BMP) are engineered with five key components – data, insights, business context, planning, and execution. In combination these components function as a value chain that enables organizations to uncover actionable insights, review them in business context, develop a plan, and put the plan into action to drive measurable and quantifiable business outcomes.

Corporater BMP value chain enables organizations to achieve business impact by driving measurable and quantifiable outcomes such as:

- Increased revenue
- Improved governance, transparency, and accountability
- Improved compliance and quality assurance
- Reduced risk, costs, and operational disruption
- Increased retention rates
- Improved acquisition rates
- Increased shareholder value
- Improved internal operations
- Process improvements and efficiencies
- Reduced paper waste

What Our Customers Say

We welcome your feedback.

We cherish and value interactions with our customers and partners. We value their feedback and appreciate hearing how we can improve and better support them in the future.

"The part I appreciate the most about Corporater is the adaptability of the software. We can share information. If one entity identifies a risk and considers it important, it can be easily shared with other entities. It is also very easy to produce reports. Anything in the system can be easily exported to reports in different formats."

- Lars Bjarme Røvang, Senior Advisor Risk Management | GASSCO

"Our CEO was really surprised with the comprehensiveness of metrics. It gave us all the full overview from financial, people, process, and learning and development perspective. My favorite part about Corporater is the strategy map inside this tool, which I've not seen at any other platform."

- Sameer Jadhav, VP of Business Excellence | Aditya Birla Capital

"Corporater is a wonderful platform for business management. As you know business performance is now legislated by government to be something that needs to be followed. I don't think we need to go and reinvent the wheel when you have a fantastic product like Corporater. The team here in South Africa has been fantastic."

- Richard Siya Msweli, Head of New Markets | Adapt IT - Partner

"My favorite part about Corporater is what we achieved on the reporting side. We can extract complete reports when we're done with a reporting cycle. This component has saved us lots of hours, compared to the time we had spent on copy-paste, different versions, emails going missing, or answers being saved at different locations."

- Line Wiger Brattøy, Senior Advisor | Miljødirektoratet

"We wanted to make sure that all entities are using the same system and methodology to reach the 2030 Bahrain Vision. Through Corporater platform we found what we were seeking. Everything is there, and, in addition to that, the support is always there."

- Adel Heji, DG HRD | Civil Service Bureau, Kingdom of Bahrain

"Conducting surveys and taking corrective action was a manual and time-consuming process, and we needed a tool that automated the entire process, yet abiding the rules on anonymity and data safety. Corporater BMP has been highly flexible in capturing and combining the survey data from all of our hospitals, and can easily turn them into action items that are measurable."

- Inger Helen Berge, IT Consultant | Helse Vest
